

EDITOR'S BIOGRAPHY

Associate Professor Dr. Mansor Bin Sulaiman is a senior lecturer at the Centre for Human Sciences, Universiti Malaysia Pahang al-Sultan Abdullah. He obtained his bachelor's degree in Shariah from Al-Azhar University, followed by a master's degree in Islamic Studies with a focus on Shariah from Universiti Kebangsaan Malaysia. He also holds a PhD in Islamic Studies from Universiti Malaya. Dr. Mansor has previously served as a part-time Arabic language instructor at Universiti Putra Malaysia, an Islamic Affairs Officer at the Johor Islamic Religious Council (Majlis Agama Islam Johor), and a lecturer at the YPJ Industrial Technology Institute. Currently, he serves as the Deputy Dean for Research and Postgraduate Studies at the Centre for Human Sciences, Universiti Malaysia Pahang Al-Sultan Abdullah.

Dr. Abdul Kamil bin Hj Jamaludin holds a Bachelor's degree in Islamic Studies and Arabic Language from Al-Azhar University, Egypt, and a Master's degree in Modern Language Studies (Arabic) from Universiti Malaya. He completed his Ph.D. in Islamic Thought at Universiti Sains Malaysia (USM) with a thesis titled "The Quranic Concept of Akinnah al-Qalb Wa 'Ilajuha in Human Capital Development." He began his academic career in 1999 as a lecturer in Islamic Studies at IKIP International College and joined Universiti Malaysia Pahang al-Sultan Abdullah as a lecturer in 2010. Currently, he serves as the Head of the Humanities Program at the Centre for Humanities, Universiti Malaysia Pahang Al-Sultan Abdullah.

Dr. Muhammad Khalis Ibrahim (PhD) is a senior lecturer in the Department of History, Civilization, and Islamic Education at the Academy of Islamic Studies, Universiti Malaya. He is also a former senior lecturer at the Centre for Human Sciences, Universiti Malaysia Pahang al-Sultan Abdullah. A graduate of the Academy of Islamic Studies, Universiti Malaya, specializing in Middle East Studies, Dr. Muhammad Khalis actively publishes scholarly works on history, civilization, politics, political thought, and current issues related to Turkey, Islamism, and West Asia, both on domestic and international platforms. His current research focuses on Islamism and Islamophobia in Malaysia.